Agency / Comment Deadline	Proposed Rule	Summary	Additional Resources / Actions	Notes
Dept. of Interior / Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) 07/05/2022	Proposed Rule: Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants; Threatened Species Status With Section 4(d) Rule for the Silverspot Butterfly	Proposal to list a silverspot butterfly from Colorado, New Mexico, and Utah, as a threatened species under the Endangered Species Act. FWS determined that designating critical habitat for this subspecies under the Act is not prudent.

Dept. of Interior / Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) 07/14/2022	Proposed Rule:  Migratory Bird Hunting: Proposed Migratory Bird Hunting Regulations on Certain Federal Indian Reservations and Ceded Lands for the 2022-23 Season	FWS proposes special migratory bird hunting regulations for certain Tribes on Federal Indian reservations, off-reservation trust lands, and ceded lands for the 2022-23 migratory bird hunting season. In issuing this proposed rule, FWS followed guidelines for establishing special migratory bird hunting regulations for Indian Tribes that recognize the reserved hunting rights and management authority of Indian Tribes while also ensuring that the migratory game bird resource receives necessary protection.
Dept. of Interior / Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) 08/08/2022	Proposed Rule:  Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants; Designation of Experimental Populations	FWS proposes to revise the regulations concerning experimental populations of endangered species and threatened species under the Endangered Species Act (ESA). It is proposing to remove language generally restricting the introduction of experimental populations to only the species' "historical range" to allow for the introduction of populations into habitat outside of their historical range for conservation purposes. To provide for the conservation of certain species, FWS has concluded that it may be increasingly necessary and appropriate to establish experimental populations outside of their historical range if the ability of the habitat to support one or more life history stages has been reduced due to threats, such as climate change or invasive species. FWS is also proposing minor changes to clarify the existing regulations. These minor changes are not intended to alter the substance or scope of the regulations.	Significant proposal to allow FWS to take into account the effects of climate change. Read more in this article.

Dept. of Interior / Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) 08/08/2022	Proposed Rule: 2022-2023 Station-Specific Hunting and Sport Fishing Regulations	1. FWS proposes to open, for the first time, two National Wildlife Refuges (NWRs) currently closed to hunting and sport fishing; and to open or expand hunting or sport fishing at 17 other NWRs for the 2022-2023 season. 2. The best available science indicates lead ammunition and tackle may have negative impacts on both wildlife and human health. While the Service continues to evaluate the future of lead use in hunting and fishing on Service lands and waters, this rulemaking provides a measured approach in not adding to the use of lead on refuge lands.	AFA has advocated to end the use of lead ammunition at past Michigan NRC meetings. Read our letter from Feb. 2020.	AFA will submit a comment opposing expansion of hunting/fishing and supporting action to evaluate use of lead and not adding to its use on refuge lands.

FWS plans to initiate a status review to determine whether the petitioned actions are warranted.	Agency review prompted by court decision in series of lawsuits since 2014; this article has thorough discussion of issues, consequences of listing

Dept of Interior / Fish and Wildlife Service; Dept of Commerce / National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS)	Final Rule	"To better fulfill the conservation purposes of the Endangered Species Act (ESA), the U.S Fish and Wildlife Service and the National Marine Fisheries Service (together the "Services") will rescind a final rule, published in December 2020, which established a regulatory definition of "habitat" specific to designation of critical habitat under the ESA.... Today's final rule will improve and strengthen implementation of the ESA by rescinding a definition of "habitat" that was unclear, confusing, and inconsistent with the conservation purposes of the ESA. The 'habitat' definition rule prevented the Services from designating areas that did not currently meet a species' needs, even if the area could in the future due to natural processes or reasonable restoration. Because most species face extinction because of habitat degradation and loss, it is more consistent with the purposes of the ESA to enable the Services to designate critical habitat in a manner that protects listed species' habitats and supports their recovery" joint press release issued June 23, 2022 by the Services.	ACTION: Thank members of the ESA Caucus, including co-chair Rep. Debbie Dingell	The Congressional ESA Caucus issued a press release: "With nearly a third of America's wildlife at risk of extinction, we should be bolstering our efforts to protect threatened and endangered species, not hamstringing them. Our country's biodiversity is one of its greatest tools in the fight against the climate crisis. Healthier wildlife populations mean healthier ecosystems ... We are proud to see the Biden administration recognize how bad this rule was for wildlife, the environment, and our future by taking action to

After a review, the FWS finds that listing the species is warranted. A temporary rule (emergency action) listing the species as endangered for 240 days is published concurrently. The agency finds that the designation of critical habitat is not determinable at this time and solicits additional data, information, and comments to assist in making a final decision.		USFWS is taking emergency action to list this animal as endangered for 240 days, and is soliciting comments regarding the species's critical habitat

Dept. of Interior / Fish and Wildlife Service (FWS) 06/06/2022	Proposed Rule: Endangered and Threatened Wildlife and Plants; Lower Colorado River Distinct Population Segment of Roundtail Chub (Gila robusta); Gila Chub (Gila intermedia)	FWS announces a finding on a petition to list the Lower Colorado River basin distinct population segment (DPS) of the roundtail chub as endangered or threatened. After a thorough review, the FWS find that ESA listing is not warranted at this time. Further, in conducting research to respond to this position, the agency determined that it should consider removing the Gila chub from the ESA. This document includes advance notice of proposed rulemaking to remove the Gila chub, currently listed as endangered, from the ESA. The FWS asks the public to submit to it any information relevant to the status of these species or their habitats.		USFWS reviewed a petition to list the roundtail chub as threatened or endangered; not only did the agency find that the listing is not warranted, it also reviewed another species currently listed and determined it will consider removing ESA protections from the Gila chub.
